TAMMANY RATIFIES.

Night's Big Meeting. Tem" Brennan, ex-Comn many Hall ratification meeting to order last night in the East Fourteenth street wigwam. The main hall was arge gathering of Germans, who were ed in their mother tongue. Three cheers rang out when "Big fom" introduced Gen. Daniel E. Sickles as Chairman. Gen. Sickles's speech was followed by a series of resolutions indorsing the Tammany ticket, which were unanimously adopted. The names the various candidates were read, and were heartily cheered.

In part the resolutions are:
'The Democratic party of this tSate is confronted with a situation fraught with danger. Encouraged by temporary triumphs elsewhere the enemies of Democracy have united for the purpose of overthrowing it, even in the Empire State. They have matured a plan of campaign by which they hope to elect a Republican Governor, a Republican Legislature, and a Republican Mayor in the city of New York, hitherto the fortress of Democracy. Through a partisan Constitutional Convention they have prepared a plan of apportionment, which, if adopted, will disfranchise Democratic constitutencies and give the control of the legislative branch of government to the Republican party for an indefinite period. It is designed to make the great cities of New York and Brooklyn, which pay over half the State tax, tributary to the rural countries. It is intended to prevent the election of a Democrat to the United States Senate for a generation to come.

"To this crists in our party history we

the happiness and prosperity of the whole people."
Ex-Gov. Waller's address was enthusiastically received. He was followed by Judge Beebe, of Suilivan County; Senator Charles P. McClelland, Amos J. Cummings and Judge Grady.
The lust named speaker scored Dr. Parkhurst, whom he called a political aposite, like Denis Kearney, with the one exception that he considered the latter honest in his views. The Judge also denounced the A. P. A. and the aristogratic element in the Democratic party.
At the close of the meeting three cheers were given for Hill, Grant and vietory.

A most onthusiastic indorsement was given by the immense gathering at Cooper Union last night to Col. Strong, Mr. Goff and the other candidates upon the anti-Tammany ticket.

Although a contingent of Wigwam heelers from the east side attempted to annoy the speakers and break up the meeting, they were promptly hissed down by the great majority, and the effort was a failure.

There was a loud demand for Dr. Parkhurst and Mr. Goff, but the former was not present, having sent a letter informing the Committee that he had a sore throat, while Mr. Goff, who was on the platform early in the evening.

In the speech of the evening, Lawyer of James C. Carter compared the present conditions to those of twenty-three years ago, when the Tweed Ring was overthrown, and predicted a similar catastrophe for Tammany Hall. He closed his remarks with these words:

"I say, therefore, that any true Democrat who sincerely wishes to advance the fortunes of his party, ought, above all things, to labor for the overthrow of Tammany Hall.

He is in the race to stay and to point as to whether or not the Legisla ture of 1896 will be abolished when the revised constitution goes into effect." said De Lancey Nicoll this morning when asked for his opinion on the point raised by the Waterville lawyer.

"I looked into the matter some time ago in order to satisfy myself, and saw a chance for a fair argument, but the strength of the argument would be against the point raised by Mr. Utley. Mr. Utley claims that no Legislature purporting to be authorized by a superseded constitution will have any right to exist after Jan. 1, 1896, and, as the first Legislature to be elected under the new constitution will not come into existence until Jan. 1, 1896, consequently there will be no Legislature for the coming year.

Edward Lauterbach, who was one of the leaders of the majority in the Constitutional Convention, said:

"All this talk is the veriest twaddle. When the revised Constitution goes into effect, it will affect no existing condition of affairs, but only affairs of the future. It does not actually or by implication, affect the term of office of a Legislation elected in 1994." said De Lancey Nicoll this morning

The detective was met in the debot by Thomas Kearny, the assistant Bergeant-at-Arms of the Committee.

Detective Webb and Kearney started for a ferry-boal to take the woman to New York, but while in the depot they were met by Senator William D. Daly, of Hoboken. He informed the woman that she was not compelled to go out of the State of New Jersey unless she wanted to. The woman said she did not want to go to New York. At this Detective Webb and Sergeant-at-Arms Kearny hecame excited, and the threemen began to talk so loud that Patroman Hoyle was attracted.

The station at the time was crowded with passengers on incoming trains, who stopped to see what was the matter. The policeman accompanied Detective Webb Sergeant-at-Arms Kearney and the woman, together with Senator Daly, to Police Headquarters. There the case Webb Sergeant-at-Arms Kearney and the woman, together with Senator Daly, to Police Headquarters. There the case was explained to Chief of Police Benjamin Murphy. Senator Daly asked for the discharge of the woman. He told her her husband was living in Hoboken, and asked her if she did not want to go there. She replied that she did, but Chief of Police Murphy refused to release her.

The woman was taken to Justice Potta's private office. Senator Daly also went there. Hearing in the case was fixed before the Justice at II o'clock.

WAGONER, I. T., Oct. 24.—If the outlaws responsible for the recent depredations in the Territory are to avoid capture much longer they must put forth extraordinary efforts. Marshals are on the trail of the men who committed Monday night's robberies, and are pressing them closely. Chief Harris, of the Chero-

Trial of Kurth and Deterling.
